Fair Planning Continues

The Milam Town & Country Fair is getting big planning treatment well in advance of the July 12-13 dates.

The National Guard Armory will be the focal point of a multitude of major Milam-wide attractions, including an Old Fiddlers contest, forming three times, an 18-division baking and pantry food contest. Auto and Farm Equipment Mall, display booths, clowns mingling in the crowd and many other features still being expanded.

Saturday, July 13, at 3:30 is the time set for the Old Fiddlers Contest. Archie Simmons, south Central Texas old time fiddler, has consented to handle the arrangements.

BIG ATTRACTION

Albert McCullin Jr., fair committee member, said that this event promises it to be one of the biggest highlights and that everyone will want to enjoy the excitement of old time fiddling.

Two classes are scheduled for the Town & Country contest, ages 60 and over, and ages 60 and under. The first three places in each class will be awarded prizes. Fiddlers are requested to be in Cameron by 10 a.m., July 13 to register for this event.

Clubs and organizations of Milam County will be provided with free booth space at the fair to display their talents and hobbies. All exhibits are the responsibility of the club, organization, or individual placing them in the fair. The booths will be completed by 10 a.m. Friday, July 12.

John Schigt, chairman of the booths committee, stressed the importance of variety in this division.

"We have a great number of creative people in our county people are a tremendous asset to our area and we enjoy seeing the things that can be or have been accomplished right here in our midst," he said.

Operation BIG was endorsed by the Cameron Chamber of Commerce early in 1962. Its apparent early success should lend additional enthusiasm to area farmers' using additional modern techniques such as fertilizer on their crops for an even greater increase in agriculture this year, weather permitting.

Milam County enjoyed a sizeable increase in 1962 agriculture compared to the 1961 season. The 1964, 592 increase was due in part to the additional use of fertilizer in the 18-county Blackland area and other BIG recommended programs.

A test area of some 18 counties not in the Blackland Improvement Growth program showed only about a 3 per cent increase while the 18-county Blackland area that included Milam showed an approximate 7 per cent increase.

Figures from the Texas Power & Light Co. study showed these Milam figures:

A total value of crop sales of $4,609,192, an increase of $671,687 over the previous year; total value of livestock sales at $5,637,900, an increase of $265,000 over 1961.

Payments to farmers from federal farm subsidies decreased $2,995, but still totaled $1,956,583. Total of 1962 agriculture income was $11,353,775.

Milam County was eighth in its 18-county rating area in amount of cash sales increase.

104-104-104

One of the factors in the higher percentage of increase was use of fertilizer. Its use has brought the establishment of three new fertilizer businesses in Cameron in the past year.

4 Minor Injuries

4 Wrecks Occur On Milam Roads

Four accidents with only slight injuries occurred during the past week, according to Gilbert Smith, highway patrolman.

Pat James Lombarado, of Marlin, turned over a truck 5.6 miles north of Cameron on US77 at the Walker's Creek Bridge. The accident happened 4:15 a.m. Thursday.

Smith said that Lombarado apparently fell asleep and the truck went about half way across the bridge before it went over the rail. It trapped Lombarado under the dash.

LANDS ON TOP
The truck landed on its top crushing the top and leveling the cab. It took wrecker crews about 45 minutes to free him from the cab. He was taken to Newton Hospital and treated for minor injuries. Smith said the damage to the truck was estimated at $4,000 and damage to the bridge was estimated at $600.

At 10 a.m. Thursday John Cleveland Johnson, of Bryan, backed his concrete loaded truck into a car driven by Cecil Orville Williams, of Milano, Smith said.

The accident took place 4.2 miles west of Milano on the Sandy Creek Road at the intersection of the private drive to the AT&T broadcasting tower, which is under construction.

Smith said that the truck driven by Johnson had missed the turn and stopped in the road. He was backing up and hit the Williams car which had stopped in back of him.

Damage to the Williams car was $125.

An accident in Buckholts at 6:15 p.m. Saturday caused about $200 damage. Smith said Andrew Gordon of Somerville, Tex., had started to make a left turn into the drive of a tavern when the car driven by William Joseph Gelineer attempted to pass the Gordon car and another car behind it.

Damage to the Gordon car was estimated at $75 and the damage to the Gelineer car was $135.

COLLISION MONDAY

Monday at 12:05 p.m. a car driven by Louis Juarez of Chicago, Ill., collided with the rear of a car driven by Peter Coffee Gibson, of Calvert. Smith told The Herald.

The Gibson vehicle was stopped in the traffic lane by a flagman at the construction 8 miles west of Milano on US 77. The flagman also tried to stop the Juarez vehicle, but Juarez was unable to stop on the wet pavement.

Juarez's car hit the back of the Gibson car, Smith said.

Slight injuries were suffered by Billie Marie Gibson and Louis Juarez. Damage to the Gibson car was estimated at $400 and the damage to the Juarez car was $225.

Charges Filed

After Man Gets

250 - Stitch Cut

Charges of aggravated assault have been filed in Milam County Court against Johnnie Johnson, Negro about 45, of Cameron, and Albert Wright, Negro, about 40 of Buckholts.

The cutting scrape started the night of June 19 at Menton's Place in a dispute over one man owing the other a dollar, Chief Elvin Hoskins reported.

The Cameron police chief said 250 stitches were required to close the slashes on Wright's face and about 10 to close Johnson's facial cuts, taken to St. Edward Hospital. Wright was taken to Newton Memorial and was released Tuesday.

Hoskins also reported that his office had caught two 15-year-old boys after they broke into the Katy Green Grocery about 4:30 a.m. Tuesday. A carton of cigarettes and $3. were taken. The youths were released to their parents.

.16 Of Inch Rain Falls In Cameron

The Weatherman brought Cameron a total of .16 of an inch of rain in four slight showers in the past seven days.

While temperatures ranged from 70 to 96, rainfall never officially reached more than .09 of an inch on any day.

June 19 — .03; June 20 — .02; June 21 — .02; and June 24 — .09.

The temperatures ranged:

JUNE	HI	LO	RAIN
19	96	70	.03
20	95	76	.02
21	95	70	.02
22	97	73
23	95	74
24	89	72	.09
25	94	70

The rainfall helped crops somewhat, agriculture observers said, but it was not enough to more than moisten the surface. A general rain was still needed to restore growth to grass.

Scattered thundershowers were possible late Wednesday as clear to partly cloudy was forecast in the area.

McKINNEY IS BOOSTER CLUB HEAD FOR '63-64

The Yoeman Booster Club elected LaVert McKinney president for the 1963-64 season at a meeting held Monday night.

Dr. Joe Parker was elected vice-president and Joe Lee Vybral was elected secretary-treasurer.

The new officers will be installed in a July meeting.

New Head Coach George Kirk spoke to the group on the plans for the coming football season. He urged the membership to take to the boys and encourage them to come out for athletics this fall.

Kirk said that he will run the wing T formation this year. He will start with the basic plays and add others as the season goes on.

Plans now are to use a five or six man line on defense, he said. He is going to try to keep from working his freshmen boys against the larger, more experienced varsity.

Kirk is also hoping to hold a meeting with the parents and Booster Club members before the start of school.

McKinney told the Herald that he appreciated the honor and confidence the members placed in him when they elected him president.

"I will devote as much time and energy as possible to the club," McKinney said. "I will try to work 100 per cent with the membership and I hope that we will have a lot of enthusiasm and a large membership in the club." He urged the members to get out and encourage the boys to come out for the team this fall.

Some insects are appearing but as yet they are causing no difficulty as control measures are followed. Market activity was dull.

Cattle Provide Largest Income

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent
CATTLE PRODUCERS NUMBERS

The USDA estimated that on January 1, 1963, there were 103,754,000 cattle in this country — the largest number ever recorded. Of this number, 85,024,000 were beef cattle. The 1957-61 average for beef cattle was only 73,665,000.

At the start of 1963, there were about 555 cattle per thousand people in the nation — compared to 565 in 1942.

The largest single source of farm income in 1962 was from the sale of cattle for meat. The USDA gives the following percentages as sources of farm income: cattle & calves, 22.3; dairy products, 12.9; poultry & eggs, 8.4; hogs, 7.5; feed crops, 7.9; cotton, 7.2; food grains, 6.3; vegetables, 4.9; oil bearing crops, 4.8; fruit and nuts, 4.2; tobacco, 3.4; sheep & lambs, 1.0; and other, 9.2.

Milam county population in 1960 was 22,263, according to census figures. The cattle population was given as 27,000 head of cattle and calves.

A preliminary report shows 19,000 bales of cotton was harvested from some 44,000 acres in Milam county in 1962 with an average lint yield of 207 lbs per acre.

An agricultural income survey of Blackland counties was made by the Texas Power & Light Company and showed these figures for Milam county for 1962. Total value of crop sales, $4,609,192; value of livestock sales $5,637,900; total cash farm income $11,353,775.

OPINION NEEDED CONCERNING GRAZING OR BAILING HAY FROM GOVERNMENT DIVERTED GRAIN ACRES

Due to drought conditions and overgrazed pastures, stockmen are asking questions about the possibility of qualifying Milam county for this practice. The stockmen should request John S. Batte, chairman of the Milam County Livestock Improvement Ass'n., to call a meeting to discuss this with local ASC officials, Farm Organization directors and others interested in the county livestock program.

If an affirmative opinion is developed, the county agent will ask the county judge to assist him in preparing a petition to the Governor who will in turn petition Washington for this program.

Industry Moves To The Country

Reprinted from "U. S. News & World Report," published at Washington.

Drive across the countryside almost anywhere in the United States and this is what you'll see—

Sleek, modern factories, office buildings and research laboratories are springing up right in the middle of farmland.

Often these plants are surrounded by fields that still yield corn and wheat, or serve as pastures for cattle.

The pictures on these pages tell the story of a growing trend in industry. It's a swing away from congested areas, out to open country where there's freedom of movement, plenty of room for parking, space for future expansion. Look at a few examples:

A former cornfield near Mattoon, Ill., is the site of an industrial plant manufacturing flexible metal hose, operated by a division of Anacosta American Brass Company.

Near Siloam, Ky., the towers of a chemical plant rise above the trees that border the surrounding farmland.

On a tract outside Fort Smith, Ark., the Norge division of Borg-Warner Corporation has built a plant with seven miles of overhead conveyor systems. Sheet steel goes in one end of the factory, finished refrigerators come out the other.

Smack in the middle of a 600-acre peach orchard near Spartanburg, S. C., the Deering Milliken Research Corporation has built a laboratory where 400 scientists and technical experts are engaged in textile research.

Escaping the noise and congestion of midtown New York City, American Cyanamid Company moved its corporate headquarters to a hilltop in Wayne, N. J.

A NEW LOOK
This swing to the countryside is giving many of today's industrial buildings a new look.

A generation or so ago, factories and offices generally were multi-story buildings. Often they were ugly, inefficiently laid out, far from economical to operate.

The tendency was to locate close to the heart of industrial areas.

Now a big change is taking place in factory planning.

The new plants of industry are lowslung buildings, designed for efficient operation. Landscaping is emphasized. There's ample space for parking—both for employees and visitors.

Often these new plants are adjacent to freeways or interstate highways. Many are on spacious tracts served by one or more railroad lines. Some now are being built at the edge of airports, to speed executive travel, and in some cases to permit shipment of parts or products by air freight.

WHY THE CHANGE?
Why are small towns and rural areas—as opposed to central cities—getting an increasing share of the nation's manufacturing employment?

Several things are responsible. Costs of plant sites in and near big cities are becoming more and more expensive. Land is cheaper farther out, and taxes are lower.

Often, there are big pools of workers in rural areas—people willing to work for somewhat lower pay scales than workers in major cities.

Says Leonard C. Yaseen, senior partner of the Fawcett Company, location consultants: "The cost gap between big cities and smaller communities is widening. A recent analysis by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics shows that pay levels for highly skilled workers in metropolitan areas under 250,000 population are 8 per cent to 10 per cent lower than in the 23 largest metropolitan areas. The gap is even wider for unskilled plant workers."

AUTOMATION A FACTOR

Development of new, instantaneous means of communication and data processing by computers and office machines has made it possible to keep decentralized plants in close touch with customers and markets.

High-speed highways cutting into rural areas help rush shipments of raw materials and finished products.

Many factors, of course, influence a company in picking a plant site.

In some cases, there's little choice in where to go. A plant that needs large amounts of water for manufacturing or processing its products must be on a river or near a seacoast. Food-processing plants generally must be close to sources of produce.

But, more and more, companies that have a choice of locations are choosing those with a rural flavor.

Lately, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has been encouraging the location of factories in the countryside under a Rural Areas Development program.

On May 30, for example, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman ceremoniously planted a tree on the front lawn of a new $750,000 shoe factory operated by Bata Shoe Company, Inc., at Salem, Ind. a village of some 4,500 people.

VARIED INDUSTRY
Research centers and "think factories" as well as production plants are being built in the country.

Some corporate managers say their scientists and engineers prefer these rural locations. "Our creative people like to be free from the distractions of city life, and the problems of commuting," one executive notes. Another reason for a research center in the country is cited by an official of Deering Milliken, Inc.:

"If you put research men too close to a factory, the first thing you know they're involved in trouble shooting and in day-to-day production problems rather than in research for the future."

Two new trends—increased use of air freight, and of company owned aircraft—are sparking the development of "industrial parks," where air-transport facilities are close to small factories.

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

Make Your Meal in a Packet a Solid Hit

Make the meal that goes to work with you reflect the solid hit of Swiss archer fame. Instead of the hit-or-miss approach to eating which, today, threatens even the family dinner, each meal should stand on its own nutritionally. You score a solid hit when the meal you take with you in a packet contributes about one-third of the day's food requirements.

Your packet meal should be packed to fit you, your appetite, your special likes. Whether you need gargantuan amounts of food to keep you going or whether you are eating to grow slim, the meal you carry can—and should—have all the items found in any well-planned menu. What you pack into your packet meal is limited only by your imagination. Here are some cues to follow and foods to include in your packet menus.

A center of interest. A generously filled sandwich—or two—made with enriched or whole grain bread.

Something crunchy. Fruit or a raw vegetable.

Something sweet. A cupcake, doughnut, fruit, or fruit tart.

A liquid refreshment. Milk or a soup.

The popularity of the meal in a packet can be traced to what it has to offer: A way to enjoy—at work—food from home, a way to hit solidly both the short lunch period and the family budget. For this reason, it is no longer just a swinging trademark of the schoolhouse set. To its roster of fans has been added the white and blue collar workers and brief case carriers, too.

Cameron Wins 3-2 Over Rosebud In Pitcher's Duel

In a real pitcher's duel last Wednesday the Cameron Pony League team defeated the Rosebud Pony league team 3-2.

The winning run came on an error in the 8th inning by the Rosebud pitcher after Don Manley hit a single and advanced to third on the next two pitches. Jackie McKinney hit a slow ground ball to the right of the pitcher's mound and Harlan Wunsch came off the mound to play it but the throw was wide and the winning run scored.

Winning pitcher was David Barrett as he started on the mound for the Cameron team and was relieved in the sixth. He struck out 7 Rosebud batters.

He was relieved by Don Manley and Manley struck out 8 of the 'em in to face him.

Wunsch, the losing pitcher, struck out 16 Cameron batters. He gave up only four hits.

The two teams will meet again at Rosebud Monday night at 8 p. m.

Tigers Defeat Cards 7-4 In Sunday Game

The Temple Tigers defeated the Cameron Cardinals 7-4 in a baseball game played Sunday in Temple.

Winning pitcher was Cruz Luna and the loser was Cameron's Jim Salazar.

Ernest Bayer hit a home run for Cameron with one on base.

The Cards will meet the Temple Falcons at Colonial Field in Cameron at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

The Cards have a 8-5 record and the Falcons have a 14-1 record. The Falcons won the last game between the two teams with a 3-0 win in a game which was called in the seventh because of rain.

The Mets will be looking for major league talent but there will also be college scouts at the camp and they will be looking for boys for college scholarships.

Any boy between the ages of 16 and 25 is eligible to participate. Each one must furnish their own baseball uniforms, shoes and gloves.

All American Legion players must have written permission from their Legion Post Commander to attend the camp.

Each boy that participates in the camp will receive individual attention and be rated on everything he does.

Muff has held the clinic in Rockdale for the past two years. He was a scout for the Houston Colts until this year.

Muff, a former Milam County, has signed several fine baseball players including John Bateman, present Houston Colt catcher. He was signed in Texas City in February 1962. Several of the boys he signed in the past two years are in the minor leagues and may move up to Houston in the near future.

A former Dallas pitcher, Muff had a 27-11 record in three years. He later went to Milwaukee as a pitcher but a back injury cut his career short.

Muff has signed several outstanding prospects for the Mets this year and scouts in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Barrett Wins Two; Places 2nd In Main

Johnny Barrett won the Semi-Main, the first heat and placed second in the Main race at the Heart of Texas speedway races last Friday. He started in the last position in the feature race.

He will be running again Friday night and Harold McCain, promoter of the track has announced that the mid-season championship will be held Friday and a 50 lap feature race is set for the modified cars.

The purse will be $1350 this week and will be split among the winners in modified and stock cars. It will be a double point event for the winners also.

A special July 3 card of races was announced by McCain also. Time trials for both nights will be at 7:15 p. m. and the races start at 8:15. The HOT track is located 5 1/4 miles north of Waco on the Dallas Highway.

Time does fly. There are only 53 more days remaining before the pre-school football workouts start. Cameron still must select two coaches to replace Joe Davis and C. T. Everett who resigned.

Cameron School Superintendent Charles Zeigler said that they are narrowing the field down and the new coach may be selected at the next regular board meeting on July 11.

Coach George Kirk is still looking for a house to move into and expects to move in the near future.

He has been coming to Cameron in the morning to get the gear ready for the boys and to get his files and office ready for the Aug. 19 starting date.

Cameron baseball fans at the Pony League game last Wednesday saw a fine example of temper control and sportsmanship on the part of Harlan Wunsch, the Rosebud pitcher.

Wunsch gave up only 4 hits and struck out 16. The game was tied and the teams went into extra innings. Cameron advanced a man to third.

A short grounder was hit to the right of the pitcher's mound. Wunsch came off and threw it to first. But he threw wild and the winning run scored for Cameron.

A lot of youngsters would have lost all their self-control and threw a fit but Wunsch just walked over to the Cameron players and congratulated them.

Cameron baseball players will have a chance to pick up some valuable baseball tips plus getting looked at by major league and college scouts in the baseball camp to be held in Rockdale July 4, 5 and 6.

Farm Safety Week Called July 21-27

College Station — "Inspection Plus Correction Equals Protection" is the theme for National Farm Safety week, July 21 - 27. President John F. Kennedy, in proclaiming the week, called upon all Americans, especially those allied with agriculture, to unite their efforts to cut down the number of farm, home and highway accidents.

The Texas Farm and Ranch council 1, long active in the promotion of rural safety, points out the need for making farm and home safety a year-round effort. Prevention of accidents takes action by people and it must be continuous throughout every year, says the Council.

FM Accidents On Increase: Musick

AUSTIN — Texas' Farm-to-Market roads are the most dangerous roads in the state, the Texas Safety Association said today in a special bulletin to Texas news media. "Since the first of this year, traffic fatalities on FM roads in Texas have increased about 32 percent over last year," J. O. Musick, General Manager of TSA, said. "Traffic accidents on FM roads also are up about 33 percent."

Current accident statistics show the FM roads have the highest increase in traffic fatalities and accidents of any roads in the state. The overall traffic fatality increase is 12 percent. Traffic accidents on all roads are up approximately 10 percent.

Musick cited several reasons for the increase in fatalities and accidents on FM roads.

"Speed-too fast for existing conditions-is the major cause of trouble. Many drivers tend to drive as fast on FM roads as they do on four-lane divided highways," he said.

"But, it doesn't take a student of modern math to figure out these roads are not designed for high speeds. It's just simple arithmetic and common sense."

"The standard FM road in Texas is 22 feet in width. This gives the driver one lane 11 feet wide for driving. The average automobile takes up eight of the 11-foot lane."

"This means the driver has about 18 inches on each side of his car for clearance - and that is just not enough space for fast driving on roads which have many sharp curves and other hazards."

The safety director explained that there are many 60 degree angle curves on FM roads — "drivers will find few super curves on FM roads."

Among other hazards peculiar to FM roads, Musick listed slow-moving farm equipment and animals.

"Drivers often must check their speed when approaching tractors and other farm equipment on the road. Or they may have to stop quickly to avoid hitting an animal crossing the roadway," he noted.

Musick also pointed out there is more traffic now on FM roads.

"The Farm-to-Market road, as the name implies, originally was designed for use of the rural community to get goods to the markets, but now these roads are being used as 'short-cuts' for cross-country traveling, by campers and sportsmen pulling boats and trailers to the nearest water hole."

"And, here's where the trouble is," he continued. "Urban driving are often unfamiliar with such roads and the hazards they present. They fail to adjust their driving PM."

Gabriel Projects Reviewed....

Hearings in Washington during the past two weeks have focused attention on the San Gabriel River projects that include the Lanport Project and projects on North and South San Gabriel above Georgetown.

Attending were representatives of the Brazos River Authority, and from Temple, Waco, Killeen, Somerville, Parker Heights, Dublin and Hamilton.

Sen Ralph Yarborough introduced the delegations from Central Texas and filed a statement with the House Appropriations Subcommittee as well as an oral statement in behalf of all the projects.

BRA Manager Walter J. Wells and BRA director Harry Provence testified in support of planning money for the San Gabriel projects. It was emphasized that nearly $140 million in flood control money for the Brazos basin is being invested and that an uncontrolled San Gabriel represents a present danger of major flooding in the River, in Milam County's Little River and parts of the Brazos River.

There was limited optimism, reports said, that planning money would be included for San Gabriel projects in the 1964 fiscal year.

It seems worthwhile for persons interested in the Lanport project, out of interest in area growth, flood control and irrigation potential, to boost the San Gabriel project along its planning stage. Lanport has been planned for 15 years and this could be an unnecessary delay.

Old Philosopher Wants To Keep Russian Agricultural Experts In Cuba For A Reason

Dear Editor: When it comes to international affairs, I lose track of things before I get half way across the Johnson grass farm, not to mention Texas, the United States, and the hundred or so counties I'm told stretch out around the world, but there was a small item in an international news article I read last night that I would like to call attention to.

As you know, the United States has been clamoring for the Russians to get out of Cuba, and apparently a good many of them are leaving — I don't know whether it's because we've been clamoring or because the only thing they can get on television is a speech by Castro.

But this thing can be carried too far. For instance, this small item I'm talking about reported that 100 Russian agricultural specialists are in Cuba trying to help solve the Cuban agricultural problem. Whatever we do, we don't want to get those specialists out of Cuba. Let em stay there. Not only let them stay there, quarantine them and make them stay there. Don't let em out.

If they can teach the Cubans to farm like the Russians, Cuba will be on her knees in two or three years.

In fact, after they've completed their job of reducing Cuban agriculture to Russia level, we might explore the possibility of having them come to this country and helping us reduce our surpluses. When it comes to holding down food production and creating shortages, Russia is so far ahead of us there's no comparison.

In fact, every time I see a picture of the Russian people hailing a new hero for making more and more orbits of the earth, I get to wondering how many trips around the earth they'd swap for one trip through a supermarket.

Orbiting the earth has now become sort of like flagpole-sitting. After a while the novelty wears off.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

FREEDOM

Our heritage

Our responsibility

The broken chain symbolizes FREEDOM... a human right which is the heritage of every American and the hope of millions who are denied its blessings.

America was founded by people who had known oppression and were willing to pledge their lives, their property and their sacred honor to acquire and preserve freedom.

The Declaration of Independence recognized the God-given character of freedom... that it should not be trampled on by men, but should be protected by law. Thus it was that the Constitution which outlined the limited powers of government was followed by the Bill of Rights which restricted those powers and guaranteed the freedoms which have distinguished America and made it the greatest nation on earth.

This is the background against which every American will answer and act on the question: "What must I do to preserve freedom for myself and my children?"

Opinions will differ, but almost everyone will agree that none of us should do less than these things:

1. Inform ourselves on important issues... on our American heritage.
2. Exercise our precious right to vote in free elections.
3. Work for equal opportunity and justice for all men.
4. Do our part in encouraging law observance and the prevention of crime and delinquency.
5. Support educational institutions and measures to improve them.
6. Formulate personal convictions, speak up when we disagree, remembering that every man is entitled to his own

7. Provide for our families and protect ourselves against financial dependency.
8. Observe patriotic holidays and encourage conscious appreciation of those principles and ideals upon which America stands.
9. Ask for no privilege which requires that we relinquish even a small part of freedom in exchange.
10. Strive for excellence, realizing that the strength of our nation is the sum of the quality of all its citizens.

Texas Power & Light Company, owned by thousands of thrifty investors, is proud of its role as a taxpayer and citizen and grateful that it exists as a product of private enterprise in the best of America's traditions.

Dateline Austin —

Murray Cleared By Grand Jury

By — Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Former Railroad Commissioner Bill Murray has been exonerated by the Travis grand jury of any criminal wrongdoing in his personal business relations with the oil industry while a member of the Commission.

Murray's duties as one of the commissioners included the drafting of rules regulating the oil industry.

It was the feeling of the grand jury that his personal investments in the oil business had in no way influenced his decisions as a commissioner.

Gov. John Connally previously had released a report, presented to him by Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, to the effect that an investigation of Murray's personal income tax reports had revealed that he had made more than $1,600,000 from his oil investments while serving on the commission. This report was turned to the grand jury.

Murray resigned from the commission several weeks ago when the conflict of interest question arose. He admitted at the time that he had been making such investments but emphatically declared they in no way influenced his decisions.

DISREGARDING DISREGARDERS

Governor Connally says the Senate-House appropriations conference committee, which came up with the state budget bill that he has protested so vigorously, never bothered to look at his budget recommendation.

Connally claims this was one reason higher education was "short changed" in the appropriations bill.

In a recent meeting of the Legislative Budget Board Lt. Gov. Preston Smith said the same sort of situation, were in legislators disregard governor's recommendation, could apply to the Governor's Committee To Study Education Beyond the high school. (No legislators serve on the 25-member committee.)

So the Legislative Budget Board, made up of state Senators and Representatives, set up its own college study committee, and ordered its staff to study problems of financing the state's 20 colleges.

Sen. Galloway Calhoun of Tyler, who asked for the board study, said he was afraid the state might run private colleges out of business by creating more tax-supported colleges. He also said that students should bear "a more reasonable portion of the cost" of their college education.

This statement could be interpreted as a preface to state-college tuition increases in the fall of 1965.

INDUSTRIAL PICTURE LOOKS GOOD

Texas fell from the second place to fourth among the Top Ten States in Industrial Development last month.

But B. R. Shelton, assistant director of the Texas Industrial Commission said the report does not show a clear picture.

Actually, says Shelton, industry is developing in Texas at a more rapid pace than it did in 1962. At that time the state finished third among the 30 states contending for new industries.

In the month preceeding the report, 24 new plants were opened in 15 cities. These included small towns like Georgetown, Refugio, Littlefield and Lewisville, as well as metropolitan cities.

DEATH KNEEL FOR BRACERO PROGRAM

Congress killed the Bracero program and set a burial date of December 31, when it refused to extend the agreement to import Mexican farm laborers for two more years.

It may help agriculture workers

Park is a 26-mile long stretch of sand, of undetermined width, covering the coastal front of Brazoria County in the Freeport area.

Developers expect to complete the $40,000 pier and connect it with a $25,000 acre land development in two months.

PLEASURE CITY

State School Land Board accepted the only bid it received for a contract to lease state submerged land to build a 10,000-foot long channel from Corpus Christi to a proposed multi-million dollar pleasure city on Mustang Island.

Bid-winner was Mustang Beach Development Corporation. It is the same organization (owned by Piper Aircraft Corporation) that intends to develop 900 acres of Mustang Island into a Marina City, complete with homes, personal boats, slips, industry and recreation facilities.

Channel is expected to cost $100,000 and will be available, free, for public use.

SUPREME COURT HOLDS FIRM

State Supreme Court overruled Attorney General Carr's motion for a rehearing of the case, Government Services Insurance Underwriters et al versus 53rd District Judge Herman Jones.

It stood firm on its earlier ruling that legislative continuances are unconstitutional.

Texas' 20-year-old legislative continuance law provides automatic postponement of court hearings and trials for parties represented by legislator-lawyers when the Legislature is in session.

Carr has been backing Judge Jones' contention that the law is unconstitutional.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULING

Attorney general has ruled that a recently-passed bill by Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo gave the State Highway Commission authority to alter maximum speed limits. Commission could set them as high as 70 miles per hour.

Also it could set minimum speed limits on controlled access highways, whether within or without a city's limits, regardless of any speed limit set by city ordinance.

ESCHEAT PROCESS SLOW

It took the 1961 Legislature two special sessions to pass escheat-reporting laws to insure the state's right to dormant personal property and bank accounts, unclaimed for more than seven years by owners whose whereabouts are unknown.

To date more than $1,600,000 has been collected by the state.

Most came from the "bank escheat" law, which became effective on May 3, 1962. Law requires banks savings and loan associations and credit unions to publicize dormant accounts in an attempt to uncover lost owners. Unclaimed deposits then are turned over to the state.

So far, this has totaled $1,340,493.15. A provision in the law allows a person claiming interest in escheated properties to recover his money. This has caused $1,686,181 to be refunded.

Originally, utility companies, county treasurers, insurance firms, court officers and others affected by the first escheat-reporting law reported more than $3,300,000 worth of unclaimed holdings.

However, by the time public notice was given, the amount dwindled to $2,260,691.88. Newspaper publicity relative to the new act resulted in numerous inquiries and claims.

"The petrified tooth of a mammoth was found in the gravel bed, just across the river in a bend, where it is believed the bed of the river once was. The tooth, over a foot across and six inches in depth is evidently that of a young Mammoth or Mastodon that roamed the woods and prairies of this land before the foot of white man had ever tread this part of the world. The tooth has been added to the collection of Dr. J. L. Cass. Also found in the same location was a petrified turtle about 3 1/2 feet in length.

We drive into this car killer at 30 mph, locking our brakes as we go so the wheels can't roll through the hole as they normally would. The car slams against the far edge of the hole with such impact that it literally bounds out.

If you added up the cumulative effect of all the jars and jolts your car's suspension system experiences in years of normal driving, it wouldn't match the impact of one trip through the hole. Yet—a Ford must run this test three times to prove its strength.

How can a Ford take it? Because Ford's front suspension has extra beef in spindles, springs, suspension arms—in fact, it's about 20 pounds heavier than the front suspension of our principal competitor's car.

We don't expect you to abuse your car the way we do our test cars. But, however you drive, you'll welcome the extra strength of a total performance Ford. Ford strength is tested in a thousand ways in Ford's laboratories and proving grounds—and in open competition in the world's toughest rallies and stock car events.

Look at Ford's astounding record in open competition this year in the grueling Daytona, Riverside, and Atlanta 500's, the World 600 at Charlotte, N.C., and in the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only a car with total performance—the best combination of strength, balance, precision control and road-clinging suspension—could roll up so many wins.

Before you buy any new car, test-drive the solid, silent Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Make this important discovery: if it's built by Ford, it's built for performance... total performance.

OLIVER WANTS YOU

To Assist Them In Selecting The Best Man
For The Oliver Dealer In This Area

OLIVER — one of the oldest and best known names in farm implements today — is going to establish a dealer to sell and service the OLIVER line in this area.

OLIVER manufactures a complete line of high-performance tractors, tillage tools, combines, corn pickers, hay tools and materials-handling equipment — widely known for their durability and economy.

OLIVER dealers are growing in numbers and in sales volume. There are a number of reasons why. Primary among them is the multitude of services OLIVER offers to help them give maximum service to farmers in their communities, at a profit in proportion to their investment and quality of service. OLIVER believes that business organizations have the right to grow and prosper only to the extent that they serve others. MR. FRED LASHER, Oliver Territory Manager, is now making a survey to determine the boundaries of the local trade area, the most effective advertising media, equipment on farms, sales and service needs and opportunities among farmers in the area, and other vital information to be used in getting the dealer off to a sound, solid start. OLIVER invites your cooperation when and if Mr. Lasher calls on you.

THIS FRANCHISE is available in this community for a man with ability, character, vision and some capital. It constitutes one of the most outstanding business growth opportunities today — a business dedicated to service to the man on whom the Nation depends for food and fiber — THE AMERICAN FARMER!

Nearly 80 percent of the farm operators in this country owned their own farms in 1959 as compared to only 60 per cent self-ownership in 1935. And about twice as many farmers rented additional land in 1959 as 1935.

Cool Off With

Chilled Consomme

What could be cooler for family meals and summer parties when the temperature nearly than ice-cold chilled consomme? Sparkling amber in a chilled bowl, its very appealing to the appetite.

Twenty party sandwiches go so nice with this chilled soup...

rolled ones with cream cheese and jelly, meat or cheese...

Any round spread at the last minute. For dessert, a frosty fresh peach cobbler, topped with a dash

of whipped cream, is sensational.

There's hardly any work involed in making this refreshing chilled soup. Place canned condemmed consomme in the refrigerator until thoroughly chilled

(about 4 hours), then open and serve in chilled bowl. Or, if you like, stir a little hot, while it highly with a fork just before serving. For heating, a frosty fresh

peach cobbler, topped with a dash

of whipped cream, is sensational.

If you want to volume a step further and serve chilled con-somme for extra-special guests, here is a suggestion to try:

Chilled Consomme

With Melon Balls

1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed

consomme

1/2 cup small melon balls

(cantaloupe, watermelon, etc.)

WHICH CAN SERVE HUMANITY BETTER?

What more could be said? After all, doesn't God always have the "last word" about everything? Why is it that human beings, by attitude and action if not by words, disagree with God? The beginning point of life and of service to humanity is humility before God. The only Saviour and the greatest Teacher said, "Every-one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted." Luke 14:14
